Green Economy

Green Economy is the prime topic to discuss in the Environment Day of 2012. What is Green Economy? Is it the economy of forest? Our students may think that as the trees are green, Green Economy means money earned by felling the trees! Because, regarding environment some students are so lackadaisical that they are not interested to learn about actual meaning of Green Economy. They are not ready to ride bi-cycle to go to college or universities instead of motorcycle. Bi-cycle is a green vehicle because we can use it without affecting the environment. Not only that, it save oil or fuel and save money. Actually that is the Green Economy. When there will be no loss in Environment in the process of production work or service, creates Green Economy. Instead of thermal power generation by using coal, if we can produce electricity with the help of solar power is a matter of Green Economy. Because in the process of production of electricity with the help of Solar Energy there is no emission of polluted gases to the environment, there are many ways by which we can earn without affecting the environment. As the global warming is growing, it is our duty to control those activities which cause to produce green house gases. Even we should think in deep when we activate green revolution. Green revolution may damage bio-diversity by killing many organisms in the name of pest control. We can produce a lot by using pesticides but we have to loss bio-diversity. So Green revolution and green economy should have a balance. As like green revolution we can talk about blue revolution also. In blue revolution the fertilizer and pesticides used in water cause many environmental disorders. So, green policies should be adapted in the green as well as blue revolution also. We need products and services to run the human civilization, but at the same time we have to think of Ecological balance. The idea of green economy will govern us sustainable development or ecological balance which will save our mother Earth and will give long life to "Bio-Civilization".
